Sunday 7 February 2010

We warmly welcome you to our worship service today, especially if you are visiting with us. Please stay behind for tea and coffee after both our morning and evening services.

We are a congregation who are evangelical, reformed and Presbyterian. Our worship service consists of prayer, singing and preaching. The Minister leads the congregation in prayer twice during the service. We sing praises to God from the metrical Psalms. We use both the 1650 Scottish Psalter and a revised version called Sing Psalms which was produced by the Free Church of Scotland in 2003. A Psalm book containing both versions is available at the door. We sing unaccompanied by musical instruments, but are led in singing by a man called the 'precentor'. We stand for our singing.

Our worship service lasts for about 75 minutes in total. The main part of that is given over to preaching a message from the Bible. The version of the Bible that we use in Leith Free Church is the NIV (New International Version). A copy of the Bible is available at the door. However, if you use another version of the Bible, do please feel free to use that instead.

We trust that your time with us today will be blessed. If you have any questions about our worship, practice or belief then please feel free to ask. For further information please go to www.leithfreechurch.org.uk

2 Corinthians 4:5.

GENERAL NOTES

- The morning service is at the usual time 11am, to be taken by Rev Colin Macleod. The evening service is a joint service in St Columba's FC at 5.30pm. The preacher is Rev Kenny Macdonald, late of Rosskeen. There will be a Congregational Fellowship after this service.

- Tea and coffee are served after both services. All are welcome to both of these.

There is an induction loop system in the church for those who have hearing aids. To make full use of this facility turn your hearing aid to position T.

Large print Psalm Books and Bibles are available.

We have a wheelchair access toilet in the entrance hall to the church. There is also a wheelchair for anyone to use whilst in the building. Please speak to one of the people on the door for further information.

Advance Notices

- Sunday 14th Communion service at 11am. Preacher, the Minister, Rev Colin Macleod. There will be a Congregational meal after the morning service. If you are able to contribute food for this lunch, please see the sign-up sheet on the table.
